ROBERT CRAIG WINERY

2014 HOWELL MOUNTAIN CABERNET SAUVIGNON

“... Strikingly rich, opaque purple in color, with mulberry, boysenberry, blackberry, graphite and flowers, the wine is rich, chewy, full-bodied, multilayered, and just a sensational example of Howell Mountain. Sadly, most Napa Howell Mountain Cabernets of this quality sell for $200-plus, but this one is available for under $100, which is to the credit of the folks at Robert Craig. This is 25- to 30-year wine, although there’s no harm in drinking it sooner.” 12/29/16

“...another superb wine from Robert Craig. Deep, inky and unctuous, the 2014 strikes a compelling middle ground of richness, intensity and structure. Inky blue/purplish fruit, menthol, spices, lavender and mint flesh out in a super-expressive Cabernet endowed with real class. The Howell Mountain Cabernet stands out for its persistence, but the huge tannins need time to soften.” 12/30/16
